GOLD GOSSIP.

THE TREASURY GOLD HOLDINGS AGAIN INCREASING.

Secretary Carlisle Denies the Report in Reference to the Redemption of Silver Certificates.

The Civil Service Commissioners Urge an Extension of the Classified Service to Fourth-Class Postmaster.

A Reform to be Introduced in the Method of Examining National Banks—An Abstract of the Last Reports to the Comptroller of the Currency.

The President to Devote a Week to the Columbian Centennial.

Blair Ceremonies at New York and Chicago.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Only a grave emergency will change the present financial policy of the government, and each day the officials of the treasury gain more confidence in the situation. Yesterday afternoon the secretary received offers of gold from Philadelphia and Chicago.

This enlargement of the free gold surplus and the usual daily increase makes the condition more easy than it was yesterday.

This, coupled with the belief that the orders for gold on Friday to be shipped by Saturday's steamer will not be very large, leaves the impression that the department will be able to meet the demand for this week.

At the treasury it was denied that any order had yet been issued for the redemption of gold of the treasury notes of 1890, and the statement was made that nothing would be done until an emergency arrived.

It is believed that so far as possible, the western bankers will come to the aid of the secretary of the treasury and supply him with sufficient gold to meet the present demands. The issuance of bonds will probably be the last method that the secretary will turn to if a crisis should arrive.

Secretary Carlisle said late this afternoon that he had $1,750,000 in free gold in the treasury. This was obtained yesterday and today, principally from the west, in exchange for small notes, and relieves the tension at least for the present.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The suspension of the issue of gold certificates by Secretary Carlisle recalls the reports made last July by the judicial committee of the house upon the resolutions introduced by Mr. Dickey of Missouri. These resolutions instructed the committee to inquire and report whether or not, under the act to provide for the redemption of specie payments, the secretary of the treasury has the right to withhold the proceeds of any bond sale in the treasury arising from the sale of bonds or otherwise, as authorized under section 3 of said act, for any purpose other than those mentioned in section 2, when, as far as it related to the inquiry proposed, is as follows:

"And on and after the first day of January, 1893, the secretary of the treasury shall be and he is authorized to withhold the proceeds of any bond sale in the treasury arising from the sale of bonds or otherwise, as authorized under section 3 of said act, for any purpose other than those mentioned in section 2, when, as far as it related to the inquiry proposed, is as follows:

"And on and after the first day of January, 1893, the secretary of the treasury shall be and he is authorized to withhold the proceeds of any bond sale in the treasury arising from the sale of bonds or otherwise, as authorized under section 3 of said act, for any purpose other than those mentioned in section 2, when, as far as it related to the inquiry proposed, is as follows:

THE BIG STRIKES.

THE RAILWAY SHOPMEN STILL KILLING TIME.

Manager Frey of the Santa Fe Emphatically Denies the Rumor in Reference to Contracts.

The Employees at La Junta Disagree With the Forces at Other Points as to the Justice of the Strike.

Trouble Expected to Arise Out of the Employment of Non-Union Men at Argentine—The Union Pacific Men and the Company Both Preparing for a Long Siege—Chief Arthur on the Toledo Conference of Engineers-General Notes.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 19.—The Santa Fe officials emphatically deny any intention of abrogating the contract with the company has made with any of the organizations representing its employees. In an interview with an Associated Press reporter at noon today General Manager Frey expressed great regret that any such erroneous impression had gone out. He said that the company had never had any such idea that it had lived up to the agreements, and did not propose to establish any precedent as disastrous to any individual or corporation as a deliberate violation of the agreements. He said that the only organizations involved in the existing strike are the ones already enumerated, and including the employees that had gone out. Mr. Frey said that the company had agreed to pay the wages asked by the men representing the striking employees, and that the only difference between the company and the employees concerned were in connection with the signing of a contract, which the company believed was not yet made.

At the interview was also a dispatch was brought into the office from La Junta, Colo., stating that the men of the La Junta had refused to go to work, and that the company had refused to pay the wages asked by the men.

The dispatch from Superintendent Connor of the La Junta, dated April 19, stated that a resolution had been passed by the men of the La Junta, to refuse to go to work until the company had agreed to pay the wages asked by the men.
